Thanks for applying at Konsus.
Konsus is a community, not a freelance platform. And we only take in the very best. The following application process helps us to ensure this for our current members and going forward also for you. We have tried to keep it short, relevant and fun.
First step now:
To assess your fit for this position we have a couple of short questions about your profile and experience.
Next:
Are a serious of short an fun tests of your skills - this depends on the role(s) you are applying for you can stop in between the steps. But you cannot stop during each step - they are timed and you only have one attempt.
Read the prompts and if you do not have time for the assessment you can leave and come back.
Good luck, thanks for applying, and we're excited to learn more about you!

Thanks for applying to Konsus.
Konsus is a community, not a freelance platform. And we only take in the very best. The following application process helps us to ensure this for our current members and also for you in the future. We have tried to keep it short, relevant and fun.
First step now:
To assess your fit for this position we have a few short questions about your profile and experience.
Next:
Come a series of short and fun tests of your skills - this depends on the role(s) you are applying for. You can stop in between the steps. But you cannot stop during each step - they are timed and you only have one attempt.
Read the prompts, and if you do not have time for the assessment you can leave and come back.
Good luck, thanks for applying, and we'll be excited to learn more about you!